

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES IN QBE EUROPEAN OPERATIONS

Job title: Actuarial Analyst – Central Reserving

Department: Actuarial

Location: London

Role Purpose (Summary)

The role is to work as part of the Technical Reserving Team lead by the Head of Reserving within the Central Actuarial Department.

General Description

The scope of the role is central across all EO Divisions. Division aligned actuarial client teams perform reserving and other analyses under the direction of the central Technical Reserving Team.

Reserving and Quarterly Reporting

- Assist in the quarterly reserving process including analysis and communication of results
- Customers include internal and external parties

Portfolio analysis and performance monitoring

Develop and disseminate performance statistics and analysis of trends. Identify and investigate emerging issues.

- Segmentation and segment profitability
- Loss trend analysis
- Follow up on specific emerging issues including analysis and reporting

Quantitative Support

- Planning – support the development of future budgets, coordination and assembly of plans across EO
- Validate plans against historical performance and emerging trends

Capital Modelling

- Assist with the analysis of Reserving and Underwriting variability for inclusion in the Capital model

Essential Requirements

- General Insurance experience
- London Market experience advantageous
- Excellent interpersonal skills

QBE

- Ability to work independently
- Strong analytical skills including the use of spreadsheets and Access databases
- Accuracy
- Adaptability (to changing priorities and timescales)
- Strong IT skills – expert user with Excel and Access